

Dawson

Chief Financial Officer

The CFO will report to the President and be a strategic thought-partner in the organization and a member of the newly created executive management team (VP PNW, VP Alaska, President, CFO). The position will directly manage finance/accounting, human resources, risk management, IT, equipment yard, contract administration, and office administration. As a member of the executive team, the CFO position will have the opportunity (as will other members of the team) to potentially move into the President's role as part of the company's long-term succession plans.

CANDIDATE QUALIFICATIONS

- Bachelor's degree with a major in Accounting, Finance, or Business Administration. A CPA or MBA is highly preferred.
- Skilled at developing key indicators in the commercial construction industry and presenting and explaining financial performance to internal and external clients; skilled at working with lenders, developers, and other external partners.
- Experience as a financial leader in a stand-alone company is preferred.
- Experience managing departments outside the accounting function in a construction company (for example, HR, IT, customer service, contract department, risk management).
- Long term aspirations for general management responsibilities including being President of a construction business.
